

THE POWERS SAVE

----- (PLACE)

The Powers were walking past the bank when they heard a loud noise. CRASH!
BANG! _____ (another noise) 'Sounds like trouble,' said Clare. 'We better check it out.'

Ted and Clare went first, _____ing into the bank. They couldn't believe what they saw: four robbers disguised as _____!
All the other customers in the bank were huddled together, looking _____. Suzie and JP followed their dad, even though they felt _____. 'I know what to do,' said Ted. 'I'll use my powers to throw sparks near their feet – that'll frighten them off.'
Before anyone could stop him, Ted was concentrating hard and a ball of fire was flying towards the villains.

'_____!' Suzie shouted. One of the robbers turned around and noticed her.

'Hey, kid! Get out of here! We're _____ (name of villains) and we're taking this money and you can't stop us!' By now the sparks were getting bigger and were starting to set fire to the _____ (thing). Clare knew she'd have to help. 'Stand back, Ted,' she said. Clare closed her eyes, put her hands on her _____ (body part) and thought about _____.

The fire was getting out of hand, and the robbers were starting to panic, but then there was a _____ noise, and before they could run away, a gust of wind blew through the bank, gentle at first, and then _____. Fifty euro notes were being blown out of the robbers' hands and up into a tornado, whizzing around. But the fire was still _____ing. 'I thought the wind would blow the fire out!' said Clare.

JP had been very quiet all this time, but when he saw the money whizzing around in the air, he couldn't help himself. '_____!' he shouted, and he took off into the tornado, grabbing at the notes and spinning around wildly.

Suzie knew she had to save the day. Things were really getting out of hand here. Pucker barked at her feet. He wanted to help, but all he could do was _____. 'I have an idea,' she thought to herself.
